Opportunity to work as an important part of a team conducting activities that support the principles of economic justice in a large Midwestern city.

DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES:

- Implement recruitment, logistics, and mobilization efforts for MALC member-to-member education program, including voter registration, canvassing, rallies, phone banks, get-out-the-vote activities.
- Help build structures for successful and sustainable member engagement and leadership development that strengthen affiliate involvement, as well as organizing for the long term.
- Assist with staffing committees and implementation of committee workplans
- Outreach to union affiliates and labor council delegates in Milwaukee, Washington, and Ozaukee counties to increase engagement and activity in those counties.
- Coordinate with MALC staff to maximize use of social media platforms for networking and mobilization.
- Other duties as required

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Dynamic interpersonal skills and ability to build strong relationships with diverse constituencies.
- Excellent verbal and written skills.
- Grassroots organizing experience in either a community or workplace context and/or political campaign or legislative experience.
- Strong computer skills and proficiency with the Microsoft office suite as well as Twitter and Facebook. Previous use of the VAN or LAN voter file a plus.
- Willing to travel in metro Milwaukee area (car and license and proof of insurance required).
- Willingness to work evenings or weekends, when needed, and at times long hours; ability to work independently while contributing to a strong team spirit.
- Familiarity with unions and labor movement structure a plus, and a commitment to building a strong labor movement dedicated to economic, social and racial justice a must.

This is a part-time position of 20 hours per week paying $15 per hour and providing mileage reimbursement. This will be a union-represented position.

The Milwaukee Area Labor Council, AFL-CIO is an equal opportunity employer and we actively seek to build diversity among our officers, staff, and members.
